Justin Marking
Head of Global Residential London,
Head Office London

Over more than 160 years, Savills has grown to become one of the world’s leading real estate advisors. The property landscape may be unrecognisable from the time we opened our first office in London in 1855, but our forward-thinking approach, our values of trust and integrity, and our focus on exceptional customer service have not changed. Today, Savills is a modern, global business. Our reach and expertise are unrivalled, with 40,000 people working in 300 disciplines that cover the entire spectrum of residential, commercial and rural property services. We reach clients around the world – through our team of dedicated specialists based in London, our worldwide network of offices and associates, and our specialist in-house marketing, PR and research teams. And our clients can find us easily, thanks to our multilingual websites and mobile search, and our reputation for market-leading insight and analysis.

Proven Track Record & Results

We have unrivalled expertise and a proven track record in the local property market. From world-class golf-front properties in Quinta do Lago and Vale do Lobo to beautiful country homes, we have sold an average of €190m worth of property annually over the past few years. Over half of our vendors, and indeed buyers, are referred to us by our existing clients and we are incredibly proud of our teams' achievements and the reputation we have gained over almost 30 years.

What's Our Secret

For almost 30 years, our locally based team has nurtured enduring relationships, always prioritising our clients' best interests, and our reputation and track record serve as testaments to our dedication. Our success is firmly grounded in our core principles of maintaining an unwavering commitment to quality and excellence in every facet of our work.

From the moment of our initial interaction, our primary goal is to understand our clients' perspectives on the sale. What are your selling motivations, expectations and specific requirements? We recognise the significant time, effort, and financial investment that may have gone into your property. Additionally, we understand that the property might hold sentimental value as a beloved home. Therefore, we approach each property with the utmost respect and care.

Once we gain a deep understanding of your circumstances and motivation to sell, we draw upon our extensive experience and market insights to provide candid, unbiased, integrity-driven advice regarding the property's value and the most effective marketing strategies. We equip our clients with the essential tools to make well-informed decisions throughout the process.

Prioritising Digital Marketing

Through meticulous keyword optimisation and strategic placement, we've secured prime positions on search engine results pages, ensuring that those in pursuit of luxury properties find us effortlessly. We place all properties (where appropriate) across various sales portals to increase visibility and lead generation. Furthermore, our strategic allocation of resources towards digital media campaigns has allowed us to showcase listings to a targeted audience, maximising visibility and engagement. This forms a significant part of our monthly marketing budget and we really see the results.

Our Property Book is produced twice per year and not only showcases some of the fabulous properties on our books, but also provides buyers and sellers comprehensive and valuable insights into the selling and buying process. Our minimum print run for The Property Book stands at 10,000 copies, and it enjoys widespread distribution in premier properties, boutique shops, renowned restaurants, and esteemed hotels along the coastline. Moreover, we dispatch copies to potential buyers worldwide, ensuring a global reach for our offerings. The Property Book is also produced and shared in an interactive digital format.

Working with QP Savills

Next Steps

One of our Sales Directors will visit your property to gain a firsthand understanding of it and your motivations for selling. After evaluating the property, they will discuss its value and potential marketing strategies with you, working collaboratively to determine the most effective sales and marketing approach. We will then prepare a marketing agreement for your review and approval.

Once finalised, we get to work!

To market and sell a property in Portugal, the following documents are required:

- ▶ Up-to-date tax booklet | Caderneta Predial
- ▶ Up-to-date land registration certificate | Registo Predial/Certidão Permanente
- ▶ Copies of last deed | Escritura
- ▶ Passport/ID of beneficial owner
- ▶ Approved plans by the local town council
- ▶ Fiscal/VAT number of beneficial owner
- ▶ Energy certificate
- ▶ Certificate of incorporation (if property is held in a company)
- ▶ And when you have a buyer, you will be required to complete the KYC (Know Your Client) forms.

We will need to have copies of these documents and for your convenience we usually obtain them directly from your local legal representative. Please note that if there are any irregularities with your property documents or your property is not fully licensed or registered, which is not uncommon, we would welcome an open discussion while taking the property onto our books. This way we can address and overcome any issues with buyers before they become insurmountable problems in the eleventh hour. Buyers' lawyers are perhaps a little more thorough in their due diligence than in years gone by. We will have your property photographed and create a printed and digital brochure. Once approved by you, we will start marketing the property. Most, if not all, of our sales team will come to view your house. This can be a little overwhelming, but worth while. You will have a big team working for you.

If you like, a member of our marketing team can contact you and tailor-make the marketing plan that works best for you. If you are happy to let us do what we think is best, we are happy, and well-experienced, to make those decisions for you. There are no marketing costs for you unless you choose to invest in additional advertising beyond our recommended tried and tested ideas.

All leads generated, are carefully pre-qualified by us before they are shown your property and we will inform you of all viewing appointments.

Prior to any property tour with buyers, certain members of our team, known as the "QP Savills runners", usually go to the property and prepare it for the viewing. Alarms are dealt with, shutters are opened, garden furniture is put out and we like to show your property in its very best light.

The sales people will then bring the potential buyers to your property, provide all necessary information on it to generate interest. You will receive feedback after each viewing from the sales agent and all offers which are made for your property will be communicated to you by the sales manager.

Should the offer be of interest,

we will negotiate the best possible sales price and terms for you. Once the sale is agreed, we prepare a Letter of Intent for both you and the buyer to sign. Within this document all the terms of the sale are detailed to avoid any misunderstandings, including price, deposits, dates, items to be included as well as the contact details of the lawyers representing both you and the buyer.

Beware of agents who drop their fees too easily to win your listing. They may also reduce your property's price when negotiating with buyers to close a deal quickly.

▶ Senior Special Agent Raquel; Quinta do Lago & Vale do Lobo Sales Director, Iain Begg; and Special Agent Stefan Cavelti

We will then ensure that the sale proceeds as planned, supporting the lawyers and ensuring the process completes with as little stress to you as possible. We will be in contact with you on a regular basis to update you on progress. Our fees are payable upon a successful sale.

Serving the Local Community

We believe it is our duty to support the local community and a proportion of our fees is given to charity each year. Our favoured are Casa da Primeira Infância - temporary housing for at-risk children; ACCA - Associação de Solidariedade com as Crianças Carenciadas do Algarve which also helps children across the Algarve; Casa de Santa Isabel which is a children's orphanage in Faro; and the Wolf Valley Charity fund in Vale do Lobo.

We support Amigos de Musica at Os Agostos, which is a wonderful local group of classical music lovers. Our sponsorship support for them goes to young Portuguese talent in their quest to become the best musicians they can, paying for further education abroad, travel and instruments.

If you have a preferred charity, we are happy to send the proportion of our fees from your sale to them.

Our Offices

When it comes to choosing a real estate partner in the Algarve, location matters. That's why we take pride in having three strategically placed offices in Quinta do Lago, Vale do Lobo and Loulé (serving the Central Algarve).

Our offices are positioned to cover some of the most sought-after areas in the Algarve. This allows us to offer in-depth, local knowledge while still maintaining a global perspective. Having access to experts deeply rooted in the region ensures that you get the best advice tailored to your needs.
